ARMY SPECIAL RULES

This section of the book describes the different units in a Daemons of Chaos army, along with their rules. Where a model has a special rule that is explained in the Warhammer rulebook, only the name of that rule is given. If a model has a special rule that is unique to it, that rule is detailed alongside its description. However, there are a number of commonly recurring 'army special rules' that apply to several Daemons of Chaos units, and these are detailed below.

DAEMONIC

Models with this rule have the Fear, Magical Attacks, Magical Ward (5+) and Unbreakable special rules (including mounts).

Daemonic Alignment

In addition to the rules above, a Daemon (including any mount they have) can have any of the following Daemonic Alignments:

- Daemon of Khorne: A Daemon of Khorne has the Hatred (Daemons of Slaanesh), Magic Resistance (1) and Mighty Blow (1) special rules.
- Daemon of Nurgle: A Daemon of Nurgle has the Hatred (Daemons of Tzeentch) and Poisoned Attacks special rules. Enemy models in base contact suffer -1 to their Weapon Skill.
- Daemon of Slaanesh: A Daemon of Slaanesh has the Hatred (Daemons of Khorne) and Armour Piercing (1) special rules. For every close combat Attack that causes an unsaved Wound, the model may make an additional Attack (including supporting attacks). These additional Attacks cannot generate further attacks.
- Daemon of Tzeentch: A Daemon of Tzeentch has the Hatred (Daemons of Nurgle) and Magical Ward (6+) special rules. Wizards with the Daemon of Tzeentch upgrade can also re-roll channelling results of 1.

Daemonic Animosity

Daemons with a different Daemonic Alignment treat each other as Suspicious Allies. However, Daemons of Khorne and Slaanesh, or Tzeentch and Nurgle, treat each other as Desperate Allies, respectively.

If there is a Daemonic unit within 6" of another Daemonic unit belonging to a different God those units suffer a -1 Leadership penalty. However, Daemons of Khorne and Slaanesh, or Tzeentch and Nurgle, respectively, suffer a -2 penalty to their Leadership if within 6" of each other instead.

Daemons that do not have a Daemonic Alignment are not subject to Daemonic Animosity, but they may only join units that also do not have a Daemonic Alignment.

Daemonic Instability

If a unit of Daemons loses a round of close combat it must take a Daemonic Instability test. This works like a normal Break test, except that for every point they fail the test by, the unit suffers one additional Wound with no saves allowed. Daemonic Instability replaces Unstable where applicable.

If characters are present in the unit, the controlling player first allocates Wounds to the unit (up to their current Wounds), then divides remaining Wounds as equally as possible amongst any characters.

The Daemonic Instability test can use Inspiring Presence, Hold Your Ground and/or be tested on unmodified Leadership if the unit is Stubborn or Steadfast as normal.

REIGN OF CHAOS

If your Army General has a Daemonic Alignment, then one of the following bonuses apply:

- Khorne's Wrath: Khorne only. At the start of each of your turns, roll a D6 for each enemy unit, and each unit that contains one or more Daemons of Slaanesh, or models with the Mark of Slaanesh, within 12" of your Army General. Do not roll for units that are engaged in close combat. On the roll of a 6, place a small round template centred directly over the centre of the unit. This then scatters D6". Resolve damage as you would from a stone thrower shot, with the model under the centre of the template suffering a Strength 8 hit with the Magical Attacks and Multiple Wounds (D6) special rule, and all other models wholly or partially under the template suffering a Strength 4 hit with the Magical Attacks special rule.
- Rot, Glorious Rot: Nurgle only. At the start of each of your turns, roll a D6 for each enemy unit, and each unit that contains one or more Daemons of Tzeentch, or models with the Mark of Tzeentch, within 12" of your Army General. Do not roll for units engaged in close combat. On the roll of a 6, that unit suffers D6+3 Strength 3 hits with the Ignores Armour saves and Magical Attacks special rules.
- The Dark Prince Thirsts: Slaanesh only. At the start of each of your turns, roll a D6 for each enemy unit, and each unit that contains one or more Daemons of Khorne, or models with the Mark of Khorne, within 12" of your Army General. Do not roll for units that are engaged in close combat. On the roll of a 6, that unit must take a Leadership test on 3D6, adding the results together. If the test is passed, nothing happens. Otherwise, for each point by which the unit failed the test, it suffers a Wound, with the Ignores Armour saves and Magical Attacks special rules.
- Storm of Fire: Tzeentch only. At the start of each of your turns, roll a D6 for each enemy unit, and each unit that contains one or more Daemons of Nurgle, or models with the Mark of Nurgle, within 12" of your Army General. Do not roll for units that are engaged in close combat. On the roll of a 6, place a small round template centred directly over the centre of the unit – this then scatters D3". Any models wholly or partially beneath the template's final position suffer a single Strength 4 hit with the Flaming Attacks and Magical Attacks special rules.

SUMMONED FROM BEYOND

A unit with the Summoned from Beyond special rule gives them the Ambushers special rule. However, instead of deploying like normal Ambushers, the unit can arrive anywhere on the battlefield.

When the unit emerges, place a marker anywhere on the battlefield and roll 2D6 and the scatter dice. If you roll a hit on the scatter dice, the marker stays in place; if you roll an arrow, move the marker the number of inches indicated by the 2D6 in the direction shown by the arrow. If the marker is moved off the tabletop, the unit is considered lost; treat them as casualties.

Once the final position is established, place the unit so it can touch the marker. If the marker is under a unit or impassable terrain, place it next to the closest edge of the unit/terrain. They may face in any direction.

SORCEROUS LODESTONE 55 points

Whenever a spell is successfully cast by any Wizard, roll a D6 – this Daemon regains a Wound lost earlier in the battle on a roll of 5+. Whenever a spell is miscast by any Wizard, the Daemon instead suffers a Wound on a roll of 4+.

MAGIC: A unit of Pink Horror is a Level 1 Wizard that knows the spell Blue Fire of Tzeentch from the Lore of Tzeentch.

SPECIAL RULES: Daemon of Tzeentch

- Split: When a Pink Horror is slain in close combat (not removed as a result of Daemonic Instability). Roll a D6; on the result of 1-3, the Pink Horror inflicts an automatic Strength 3 on the unit that inflicted the Wound, distributed as a missile attack. On the roll of a 4-6, the Pink Horror will split into two Blue Horrors instead; replace the slain Pink Horror with two Blue Horror models at the back of the unit. If you do not have access to enough Blue Horrors, treat the result as having rolled a 1-3 instead. When resolving attacks against a unit with both Pink and Blue Horrors present, the Blue Horrors are targeted and removed as casualties first.
- Whirling Destroyers: The unit receives an additional +1 casting bonus for every 5 five Pink Horrors in the unit, to a maximum of +3. If the unit has 15+ Pink Horrors, it counts as a Level 2 Wizard and gains access to the Pink Fire of Tzeentch spell from the Lore of Tzeentch. Each time the unit casts a spell (or is targeted by a special rule that affects a Wizard), you must nominate one Pink Horror as the caster for the purposes of line of sight, range, etc. In the event of a Pink Horror unit rolling a miscast, do not roll on the Miscast table. Instead, the unit suffers D3 Wounds with no saves of any kind allowed.

- Staff of Tomorrow: Arcane Item. Staff. Kairos allows you to re-roll a single D6 of your choice once per turn – declare before you make the re-roll. If this is used to re-roll a single dice from a batch of 2D6, 3D6 etc, the other dice in that batch cannot be re-rolled.

- Oracle of Eternity: Kairos Fateweaver has a 6+ invulnerable save.
- The Blazing Squealers: If Kairos Fateweaver is included in your army, you may upgrade one unit of Pink Horrors to the Blazing Squealers for a cost of +2 points per model. The Lesser Flames of Tzeentch from this unit are resolved at Strength 4 instead of Strength 3.

TROOP TYPE: Cavalry (Special Character, Daemon)

MOUNT: Disc of Tzeentch (Daemon)

BASE SIZE: 50x50

MAGIC ITEMS:

- Scrolls of Sorcery: Arcane Item. Relic. Bound Spell. The Blue Scribes can cast one spell from one of the eight Winds of Magic in the Warhammer rulebook during each of your Magic phases. You can choose which lore the spell is to be cast from, but must roll a D6 and refer to the spell order in their chosen Lore to see which spell is cast (the Blue Scribes can therefore never cast a signature spell). If there is no viable target or you choose not to cast the spell that has been rolled, the Blue Scribes do not cast a spell that turn – instead, add a counter as described in their Spell Syphon special rule.

SPECIAL RULES: Daemon of Tzeentch, Fly (9)

- Spell Syphon: Whenever an enemy successfully casts a spell (including Bound Spells), place a counter next to the Blue Scribes. At the start of your next Magic phase, the Blue Scribes can make a channelling attempt for each counter. Once the Blue Scribes have attempted to channel, remove all counters from them.

NOTES:

- The Blue Scribes have a Unit Strength of 3.

MAGIC: The Changeling is a Level 1 Wizard who uses spells from the Lore of Tzeentch.

SPECIAL RULES: Daemon of Tzeentch

- Formless Horror: At the start of each Close Combat phase, choose an enemy model in base contact with the Changeling. The Changeling may increase any or all of his Weapon Skill, Strength, Toughness, Initiative and Attacks characteristics to match those of the chosen enemy model until the end of that phase. If the chosen model has more than one value for a characteristic (as is the case with a mounted model), the Changeling may always choose the higher value. The Changeling cannot match the characteristics of an enemy that is fighting in a challenge, unless the Changeling is fighting in the same challenge.
