ARMY SPECIAL RULES

This section of the book describes all the different units used in a Chaos Dwarf army, along with any rules necessary to use them in your games of Warhammer. Where a model has a special rule that is explained in the Warhammer rulebook, only the name of that rule is given. If a model has a special rule that is unique to it, that rule is detailed alongside its description. However, there are a number of commonly recurring 'army special rules' that apply to several Chaos Dwarf units, and these are detailed here.

BACKSTABBERS

A unit with this special rule that successfully restrains from pursuit causes D6 Strength 3 hits for every complete rank the unit has (up to a maximum of 3D6) on the fleeing unit. Resolve any casualties before moving the fleeing unit.

BLACKSHARD ARMOUR

Models with this special rule have Immunity (Flaming Attacks) if they wear a light, medium or heavy armour.

BLAZING BODY

All models with this special have Flaming Attacks and Immunity (Flaming Attacks). In addition, any model in base contact with a model with this special rule at the start of the Close Combat phase takes an automatic non-physical Strength 3 Hit with the Flaming Attacks special rule. In addition, any non-magical attacks suffer a -1 Strength penalty against them.

BURNING BRIGHT

From the second game turn onwards, at the start of each of your turns a Toughness test must be made for each unit with this special rule. If this is failed, it suffers D3 Wounds with no saves allowed.

CONTEMPT

Units with this special rule treat friendly Hobgoblins, Goblins, and Orcs as if they had the Expendable special rule.

COWARDLY DESPOILERS

Models with this special rule gain +1 To Hit in the first round of combat if they successfully charge an enemy in the rear or flank.

DAEMONIC

Models with this special rule have the Magical Attacks, Magical Ward (5+) and Unbreakable special rules.

If a unit of Daemons loses a round of close combat it must take a Daemonic Instability test. This works like a normal Break test, except that for every point they fail the test by, the Daemon suffers one additional Wound with no saves allowed.

HELLBOUND

Models with this special rule have the Fear, Magical Attacks and Magical Ward (6+) special rules. Additionally, once per game, an artillery weapon with this special rule may re-roll one scatter dice or one artillery dice. However, should a Hellbound model ever have to make a roll on a Misfire table, it suffers a -1 modifier to the result.

RELENTLESS

Units entirely composed of models with this special rule do not need to pass a Leadership test in order to march, regardless of the proximity of enemy units.

RESOLUTE

When taking Break tests, models with this special rule count as having lost the combat with 1 point less than they actually have.

SORCERER'S CURSE

Whenever a model with this special rule suffers a Miscast during the game, after resolving the effects of the Miscast on them normally, they must pass a Toughness test or suffer a Wound with no saves allowed.

FIREGLAIVE

Range:	Strength:	Special Rules:
Combat	+1	Requires Two Hands

Range:	Strength:	Special Rules:
9/18"	5	Ponderous

FLAMEHURLER

Range:	Strength:	Special Rules:
6/12"	4	Armour Piercing (2), Flaming Attacks, Quick Shot

Note that this not a physical attack.

NAPHTHA BOMBS

Range:	Strength:	Special Rules:
6/9"	4	Flaming Attacks, Ignores Armour Saves, Magical Attacks, March & Shoot, Quick Shot

Note that this not a physical attack.

TREACHEROUS GITS

Units with this special rule must test for Treachery in the Charge sub-phase after all normal charges have been declared during each of your turns, by every unit that is subject to Treachery, unless any of the following applies:

- The unit has less than 5 models.
- The unit has declared a charge this turn.
- The unit is engaged in close combat.
- The unit is garrisoning a building.
- The unit is fleeing or currently off the battlefield.

Roll a D6 for each eligible unit. If the dice roll is a 2 or more, the unit behaves normally this turn. If the roll is a 1, however, the unit has failed its Treachery test and must roll on the Treachery table below:

D6	Result
1	Traitor! If the unit is armed with missile weapons, they will immediately resolve a round of shooting against the nearest friendly unit within Line of Sight. If the unit does not have any missile weapons or if there are no friendly units within Line of Sight, they will inflict D3 Strength 3 Hits for every complete rank the unit has on themselves instead (any Wounds suffered will not cause a Panic test). The unit may not move, shoot or cast spells this turn.
2	We'll get a better view from further back! The unit must immediately take a Panic test. If it's passed, the unit may not voluntarily move this turn.
3-4	We Stayz 'Ere! The unit may not voluntarily move this turn.
5	Bloody Murder! The unit suffers D3 Strength 3 Hits for every complete rank the unit has (any Wounds suffered will not cause a Panic test). The unit may move as normal afterwards.
6	Cut 'em good! Pivot the unit on the spot to face the nearest visible enemy unit, and then make a full normal move in a straight line towards it. If there is no visible enemy, the unit must move straight ahead instead. If it is impossible for the unit to pivot to face the closest enemy, it will pivot towards it as far as it can, and will then move as far forward as it can while still keeping the enemy within its forward arc. After the move is complete the unit must declare a charge against the closest visible enemy unit, if it is possible to do so. If the unit cannot declare a charge then it may carry on with the rest of its turn normally, as if it had not yet moved this turn.

ANIMOSITY

Units with this special rule must test for Animosity in the Charge sub-phase after all normal charges has been declared during each of your turns, by every unit that is subject to Animosity, unless any of the following applies:

- The unit has less than 5 models.
- The unit has declared a charge this turn.
- The unit is engaged in close combat.
- The unit is garrisoning a building.
- The unit is fleeing or currently off the battlefield.

Roll a D6 for each eligible unit. If the dice roll is a 2 or more, the unit behaves normally this turn. If the roll is a 1, however, the unit has failed its Animosity test and must roll on the Animosity table below:

D6	Result
1	Get 'Em: For every complete rank the unit has, it suffers D3 hits at the Strength characteristic of the majority of the models in the unit. The unit may not voluntarily move or shoot this turn. Wounds caused by the Get 'Em result never cause Panic tests.
2-4	Squabble: If it is possible to do so, the unit must declare a charge against the closest enemy unit. If the unit is unable to declare a charge, the unit may not move in the Movement phase or shoot this turn.
5-6	We'll Show 'Em: Pivot the unit on the spot to face the nearest visible enemy unit, and then make a full normal move in a straight line towards it. If there is no visible enemy, the unit must move straight ahead instead. If it is impossible for the unit to pivot to face the closest enemy, it will pivot towards it as far as it can, and will then move as far forward as it can while still keeping the enemy within its forward arc. After the move is complete the unit must declare a charge against the closest visible enemy unit, if it is possible to do so. If the unit cannot declare a charge then it may carry on with the rest of its turn normally, as if it had not yet moved this turn.

SIEGE GIANT

Profile	M	WS	BS	S	T	W	I	A	Ld	Points
Siege Giant	6	3	3	6	6	6	3	*	10	200

TROOP TYPE: Monster (Giant)

BASE SIZE: 50x75

EQUIPMENT: Hand weapon, siege armour

- Siege Armour: Medium armour. Siege Armour gives the wearer +2 armour save against missile attacks to its front.

SPECIAL RULES: Immunity (Psychology), Natural Armour (6+), Stubborn

- Fall Over: A Giant must test to see whether it falls over if any of the following apply:
 - If it is beaten in close combat. Test once results are established but before taking a Break test.
 - If it is fleeing at the start of the Movement phase.
 - When it crosses an obstacle. Test when the obstacle is reached.
 - If the Giant decides to Jump Up and Down on an enemy. Test immediately beforehand.

To see if a Giant falls over roll a D6. On a roll of 1, the Giant falls over. A slain Giant falls over automatically. To determine in which direction the Giant falls, roll a scatter dice. Place the small template in base contact with the Giant in the direction of the scatter dice, measured from the centre of the Giant's base. A model hit by a falling Giant suffers a Strength 6 Hit with the Multiple Wounds (D3) special rule. If the unit is in combat and the Giant has fallen over whilst attempting to Flail and Crush, wounds inflicted by a falling Giant count towards the combat result. A Giant that falls over automatically suffers 1 wound. If the Giant is in combat then this Wound counts towards combat resolution.

Once on the ground, a Giant may get up in his following Movement phase, but may not move in the Movement phase that turn. Whilst on the ground a Giant may not attack, but he can still defend himself after a fashion so the enemy must still roll to score hits on him. If forced to flee whilst on the ground the Giant is slain – the enemy swarm over him and cut him to pieces. If the Giant gets the opportunity to pursue his foes whilst he's on the ground he stands up instead. A Giant may attack in close combat as usual on the turn he stands up.

- Siege Giant Special Attacks: Giants do not attack in the same way as other creatures. They are far too large and fractious to take orders and much too scatter-brained to have any sort of coherent plan. To determine what happens in each Close Combat phase, pick a unit in base contact with the Giant and roll a D6 on one of the following tables. Which table you use depends on the size of the Giant's victim. If no suitable target is in base contact, roll again on the chart until you get another result.

MAN-SIZED THINGS CHART

Use this chart when fighting Infantry, Cavalry, War Beasts or Swarms.

D6	Result
1	Yell and Bawl
2-3	Flail and Crush
4-6	Ripping Blades

BIG THINGS CHART

Use this chart when fighting Monsters, Monstrous Creatures, Monstrous Beasts, Monstrous Infantry, Monstrous Cavalry, Chariots, War Machines, and Shrines.

D6	Result
1	Legbreaker
2-4	Smash with Pick
5-6	'Eadbutt

- 'Eadbutt: The Giant automatically inflicts D3 Wounds which Ignores Armour Saves. If the victim suffers one or more unsaved Wounds, then it loses all of its following attacks. If the target has not yet attacked in that combat round, it loses those attacks; if it has already attacked, then it loses the next round's attacks.
- Flail and Crush: First test to see if the Giant falls over (see previously). If the Giant remains on its feet, select a target unit in base contact. That unit sustains 2D3 hits.
- Legbreaker: The Giant targets a single enemy model in the target unit that is in base contact. The Giant and its victim both roll a D6 and add their Strength, and for each point by which the Giant beats its victim's score, it inflicts D3 automatic wounds with the Ignores Armour saves special rule.
- Ripping Blades: The Giant fights using the Random Attacks (2D6) special rule this round.
- Smash with Pick: The Giant chooses a single target model from the enemy unit that it is in base contact with. The target may attempt to avoid the blow by passing an Initiative test. If the test is failed, the model suffers 2D3 wounds with the Ignores Armour saves special rule. If a double is rolled, the Giant cannot attack at all in the following round of the same combat.
- Yell and Bawl: Neither the Giant nor models in contact with it fight if they have not already done so this round. The Giant automatically wins the combat by 2 points or more. This result has no effect against Animated Constructs.

UPGRADES:

- Runes of Hate: A Giant with Runes of Hate becomes subject to the Berserk Rage rule from Frenzy. In addition, whenever the Giant may re-roll the number of Hits or Attacks it inflicts above.
- Scaling Spikes: If a Giant with this upgrade perishes and falls over an obstacle such as a moat, ditch or wall, mark the obstacle, which now may be crossed as open terrain. Additionally, if the Giant dies at the foot of a building or fortification, models assaulting any garrison across the location of its body gain a +1 bonus to their Combat Resolution.

OPTIONS:

- May take Runes of Hates.....+25 points
- May take Scaling Spikes.....+10 points
